WHITNEY AND BAYARD.

The indications are that a disagreequestion was not due to any dilatoriness patches show that on the 5th inst. Secre- up in the place of every one of the extary Whitney wrote to Secretary Bayard | isting licensed houses in the terrttory. asking-him what the policy of the government would be regarding the Sawere sent with their ships to the South Pacific, where communication with them would be slow and more or less uncertain. It does not appear that Secretary Bayard deigned to reply, no substitution of the success of Boulanger at the Paris election on Sunday the following table, which shows the strength of the armies of the several European government bonds, 4s, 128; 44s, 109; Northern Pacific, 25g; preferred, 60%; Uregon Navigation, 92g; Transcontinents, 30g; Union Pacific, 25g; Oregon Improvement, 69g. Money on call easy at 15g2; per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4g6. Sterling exchange quiet and closed at 86g. Sales, 720,000 possibly conceiving that it was not necessary that officers of the navy should know what was expected of them. Mr. Whitney further took pains to let the public know that he had made all arrangements for the dispatch of a of Europe is as follows, approximately: squadrom from San Francisco as soon as be should be authorized to do so. The day of Europe is as follows, approximately: he should be authorized to do so. Th. 1. public will duly appreciate the energy | England Secretary Whitney has shown in this affair, and if, as now appears to be the case, there is a quarrel between the state and navy departments, public sympath, will assuredly be with that official who has shown the greater jealousy of the honor of the nation. Mr. Bayard's inaction is a trial of patience to every American, and unless he can show better cause than has yet appeared for doubting that American interests are menaced and that the flag of America has been grossly insulted by the Germans at Samoa he will find himself very generally execrated.

HELENA'S ENTERPRISE

The proposed establishment of a woolen mill in Helena with a capital stock of stantial evidence that capitalists here have faith in the future of the city. And certainly there is no reason why they should not. The resources of Montana are almost limitless, in stock-growing, farming and mining. The wool interest is large and profitable even under present conditions, and when factories are established for the conversion of wool into cloth the sheep-growers will find additional remuneration for their labors Freights for manufactured goods are less than on raw material, and the $1,500,-000 yearly clip of Montana will hereafter have to pay tribute to fewer middlemen. To the people at large the result will be cheaper woolen clothing: to the city it will be increased population and prosperity; and to the terrtory at large the effect will be beneficial in many ways. That the capital going into this enterprise is all local is a highty gratifying fact, as it shows the confidence citizens of Helena have in the growth of the ter-

RECENT advices from Indianapolis make it certain that Gen. Harrison has decided upon the composition of his cabinet, and that the following named gentlemen have been chosen:

For Secretary of State—J. G. Blaine, John Sherman, W. M. Allison. For Secretary of the Treasury—W. M. Allison, John Sherman, Thomas C. Platt, Warner Miller, Wharton Barker. For Secretary of the Interior—John M. Thurston, J. S. Clarkson, M. M. Estre, John Wanamaker. John Wanamaker. For Secretary of War-R. A. Alger, Lew Wallace, Gen. Chas. S. Warren, Lucius

Fairchild.

For Secretary of the Navy-John M.

Thayer, John Wanamaker, Charles Foster.

For Postmaster-General — M. H. De

Young, J. S. Clarkson, Henry C. Payne.

For Attorney-General—J. A. Kasson, M.

S. Quay, S. B. Elkins, W. W. Dudley.

It is possible the number of names will be reduced to correspond with the number of positions to be bestowed; but the above list may be relied upon to furnish at least four of the seven secretaries.

GEN. HARRISON'S mood is said to cause frost to settle upon the walls of his Indianapolis reception room when the name of M. M. Estee,of California, is suggested for consideration in connection with the formation of a cabinet. It all grew out of a verbal inadvertance on the part of the distinguished Californian, who headed the delegation sent to notify Gen. Harrison of his nomination to the presidency, and who in the course of his address to the nominee said that a number of prominent and able men had been candidates before the convention, "and yet you were chosen." It was one of those blunders that carried a sting with it, especially as Estee was an avowed Blaine man, and he has never been wholly forgiven for his candor.

THE manner and form of Mr. Sherman's declarations in the United States senate, yesterday, regarding the Samoan incident will suggest that, notwithstanding the positive statement in another Washington dispatch that Mr. Blaine has accepted the tender of the secretaryship of state, Mr. Sherman will be in charge of that particular branch of the public service when Gen. Harrison assumes the

According to the editor of the Tribune, "at the time of the election of Helena, Mont., Jan. 30, 1889. delegates the constitutional convention held at Helena in 1884 shall be submitted to the people for ratification, and if ratified shall again be submitted to the people for ratification." The omnibus bill is for the admission of the territories, not to furnish an intellect for the editor of the Tribune.

THE HUNT BILL.

Those members of the legislative couneil who opposed the Hunt gambling bill, yesterday, on the ground that it does not go far enough and prohibit all games of chance, are probably without intending to do so, playing into the hands of the sure-thing gamblers, who desire nothing more earnestly than they do the enactment of a gambling law that shail be a Portland and a larger circulation than any dead letter. Members who assert that gambling has been suppressed in Colorado are misinformed, for the truth is, as those know who have been in the state recently, that the prohibitory law is utterly ineffectual and that the result of | 25 cents. its enactment has been to foster rather than check so-called skin games by causing the gamblers to run their business behind barred doors. It is possible, by setting the license fees at a high figure, with the statutory "good and sufficient prepared to do both plain and fancy work ment has sprung up in the cabinet of bond" for observance of the law, to keep on the shortest notice. President Cleveland over the policy the managers of gaming tables within which should be pursued in the matter bounds. It is far better to accept a reof German intervention in the affairs of strictive law which can be enforced than Samoa. The dispatches printed in the to insist upon a prohibitive statute INDEPENDENT of Sunday gave evidence, which, even could it be passed (which is in fact, that Secretary Whitney wished not at all probable, judging by the vote | $16,50, the public to know that whatever delay on Comfort's amendment to the Hunt there might be in dealing with the bill) would not be enforced, for one reason because a dozen secret games, most on the part of his department. The benefit of such an institution would be perhaps as much feit by the territory at large as by this particular section, the outgrowth of a school of practical farming being ultimately to prove the fitness of our lands in general for profitable agriculture.

The distillery piant which is to be established here in the spring has not yet taken more definite form than an organization of the stockholders, who have elected their officers, and taken some necessary preliminary steps towards the selection of the site for the works, etc.

A paper mill is one of the certainties of the near future, a syndicate, with Peter Hogan, a well known eastern capitalist, being at the head of the enterprise. With the work upon the artesian well under the management of A. P. Clark, and the possibility of the construction of an elaborate system of water works, Bozeman promises to become the scene of marked activity during the coming season.

to become the scene of marked activity during the coming season.

A hotel, to be built by Nelson Story, is also decided upon, and ground will be broken for the building as soon as practicable in the spring. The edifice is to be of brick and stone, three stories in height, with all the modern accessories, such as steam heat, electric light, elevators, fire escapes, etc. etc.

This will prove a profitable investment, and the beautiful environments of Bozeman, its proximity to the park and to well-known hunting and fishing resorts, with proper hetel accommodations, will insure us large numbers of summer visitors. The season here thus far has been a rather quiet one socially, there having been no parties or balls other than the regular ones given by the two dancing clubs. A masquerade and hard times party are said to be under consideration by the Terpsichoreans.

The public musicale which was to have been given under the charge of Mesdames Wilson and Hersey, has been postponed for various reasons until May or June.
